

Bulletin - #07809-1 Head and Neck Restraints

All car/truck entries are required to wear an approved, properly fitted head and neck restraint during all practice, qualifying and Race Day runs. This is in accordance with the 2009 Pikes Peak International Hill Climb Official Rule Book "Safety & Construction – Technical Regulations and Special Rules" 13.0 Helmets/Eye Protection –

13.2 Helmet/Eye Protection – It is mandatory that an approved head and neck restraint device be worn during all competition sessions.

The device must be available and properly fitted for the Technical Inspection on July 14. Safety personnel may require you to buckle into your car/truck with your helmet and head and neck restraint on at Tech. You will not receive a 2009 Tech Sticker without it.

You will be checked before each run to insure strict compliance. First infraction will be loss of practice time. Second infraction will be fine (up to $5,000.00) and/or exclusion from the event. If you have not been excluded from the event on the second you will be on the third. The Pikes Peak International Hill Climb, its Board of Directors, Stewards, and Officials take this very seriously. It is for your safety that the rule was implemented.
